

GRAND JURY REPORT.

They Have Returned Thirteen Indictments.

All the Offices Found in Good Condition.

The County Jail Needs a Better System of Ventilation—Money in the Treasury.

The Territorial Grand Jury brought in a final report yesterday, and were discharged. The jury has returned thirteen indictments and ignored four. The report returned yesterday is as follows:

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 19, 1890.—To the Hon. J. H. Kibby, Judge of the District Court of the Territory of Arizona in and for the county of Maricopa:

"We, the Grand Jury duly impaneled and sworn, beg leave to report as follows:

"We have examined seventeen cases of which number thirteen indictments have been found and four dismissed. Committees were appointed to examine the various county offices, and their reports having been adopted, are attached hereto and made a part hereof.

"In compliance with Your Honor's suggestions, we have given to the indictment witness cases close attention, and find that they were generally poor men, and we believe that very little, if any, injustice to the county has been done.

DAVID L. MURRAY, Foreman.

The committee appointed to examine the office of Treasurer, report that the books of that official showed the amount of cash on hand was $21,870.22, which was the exact amount found by the committee to be in the vaults.

The offices of the Assessor and District Attorney were found in excellent condition, the jury having neither complaint nor suggestion to make.

In the matter of the Recorder's office it is recommended that the Recorder be authorized to transfer the records for deeds, mortgages, powers of attorney and articles of incorporation from the book of miscellaneous records into the several books devoted especially to such papers.

The Sheriff's office was found in good condition, the books being in excellent shape, but it is recommended that the county jail be supplied with a better system of ventilation.

The county hospital was examined, six patients being found there who were well treated and supplied with all the comforts possible under the circumstances.

The office of the Probate Judge was reported in good condition.

Baby's Toes and Fingers.

"Clarissa Potter" advises mothers to pay more attention to the fingers and toes of crawling babies. When baby cries examine her tiny toes and fingers to make sure that no splinter of wood or iron has entered them. "As baby grows older and boots take the place of soft wool socks, care must be given that the fast growing little feet are not cramped by too small boots. Even dainty kid can goadingly pinch and chafe the dainty flesh, and if the boot is too short, harshly double the flexible, helpless toes in under themselves, causing baby much waiting distress, which, due to our ignorance, try to relieve with generous doses of castor oil and catnip tea."

Toads and the Electric Light.
[Electrical Review.]

A lady tells how she was recently waiting in a carriage near an electric lamp, which had just been lighted, while her friend went to a neighboring shop. In the dry road she presently saw a stir, and looking over the wheels saw hoping in all directions, across and around, toads aiming for the light. She got out and aimed for the toads. There was a ring of toads underneath it already, waiting for the fall of moths and the insects of night that drop from the life-destroying flame. It was a curious sight—those creatures squatted in a circle, with upturned heads, waiting for the victims to drop into their mouths.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The stock market today opened active and feverish, with a strong tone in the forenoon, which gave way to decided weakness in the afternoon, though a smart rally toward the close brought most of the list up to within small fractions of last evening's final figures. The list is generally a fraction lower to night, but Chicago gas stock is down 3/4, sugar 3/4, Transcontinental 1/4, Northern Pacific preferred 1/4.
